From now on, I will be known as "PRINCE" Aidyn.
Eff romance. I'll just join my brothers on the battlefield. Let's kill stuff and conquer stuff.
Wow. She's really dressing up like a boy
Meh, let her him be

I'd be the most famous General in history, with a small but extremely loyal army who'd gladly follow me into battlefields, climb mountain of swords, jump into burning seas.

I'd have both men and women falling in love with me everywhere I tread. Yet still die a lonely warrior.

My kind of Fairy Tale.
